2 Humanities and Social Science Courses have a "Preregistration" system

Humanities and Social Science Courses have a "pre-registration" system, which is intended to help students as many of their desired courses as possible, while limiting the number of students who can register based on the course and its characteristics. Pre-registration can be done twice a year (before 1Q & 2Q and before 3Q & 4Q) During the pre-registration period, students will be asked to enter numbers (starting with 1) in order of preference on the questionnaire form on the Web System for Students and Faculty. Then, after the pre-registration period, they will be notified of the results. (Should the number of applicants exceed course capacity, a lottery system will be used todetermine which students are admitted.) There are many courses for which the number ofapplicants reach full capacity by pre-registration. Note that if you fail to go through this procedure, you may not be permitted to take your desired courses. For details on the procedure, please view the orientation video and check the orientation materials (refer to 1).
